

Freedman Consulting, LLC: Content Associate, Bloomberg Cities Insights Unit
Washington, D.C.

Freedman Consulting, LLC, a strategic consulting firm, seeks a skilled self-starter with strong digital media and writing skills to join the Bloomberg Cities Insights Unit as a Content Associate.

The Content Associate will join a team of content and research professionals working in partnership with Bloomberg Philanthropies' Government Innovation team to:

- Grow, educate, and activate a burgeoning global network of city hall leaders and innovators;
- Uncover, document, and elevate successful public-sector innovation strategies and skills; and
- Identify challenges and opportunities in the public-sector innovation movement.

The Content Associate's primary focus will be on developing and advancing the Insights Unit's social media strategy as well as producing dynamic, engaging content for its digital platforms. The Content Associate will also support the Insights Unit's research and content development for its weekly Spark newsletter and other @BloombergCities platforms. This content will connect key stakeholders in municipal governments around the world with powerful insights from real-world government innovation successes, Bloomberg Philanthropies' Government Innovation programming, and other important resources.

The Content Associate will work closely with the Content Director of the Insights Unit and should be comfortable independently managing projects and working in a fast-paced environment, bring interest and enthusiasm in the field of public-sector innovation, and offer creative thinking for advancing the reach of the Insights Units' content, particularly through leveraging its social media platforms. They will work across a broad range of content creation and social media initiatives within the Insights Unit, often in a client-facing capacity, and, in partnership with the Content Director, are responsible for planning social media content for the Insights Unit.
